Before packing a pump for return, please follow the below instructions:

After removing the pump from the aquarium, place the pin spacer back on the dry side of the pump in its "storage" setting. Also, rinse off the wet side of the pump in freshwater and dry it thoroughly and pack the wet side within a plastic bag separate from the other components to avoid causing moisture damage during transit. Aqua Blue Distribution will not be held responsible for any damages due to moisture or improper shipping. We recommend that you ship the unit insured and with a tracking number.
